RELIEF TO INTER-FAITH COUPLES: ‘INVITING OBJECTIONS CANNOT VIOLATE BASIC RIGHTS’

30-day notice period not mandatory under Sp Marriage Act: Allahabad HC

The Allahabad High Court ruled that couples seeking to solemnize their marriages under the Special Marriage Act, 1954 can choses not to publish the mandatory 30-day notice of their intending marriage.

Section 5 of the Special Marriage Act, the legislation that allows interfaith marriages irrespective of the religious beliefs of the couple, requires parties to give a 30-day public notice of their intention to marry. The court noted that the publication of the notice of the marriage on the ground of anti-conversion objections to the marriage is not mandatory. In the order Tuesday, Justice Vinayak Pandey said, “The interpretation of Sections 5 and 7 read with Section 4 of the Special Marriage Act of 1954 does not bar such an instance. The court noted that the ground of anti-conversion objections to the marriage is not mandatory.

The ruling comes as a relief to couples who are being increasingly targeted by vigilante groups. The court noted that such provisions in anti-conversion laws are unconstitutional.

When I was growing up, we celebrated Christmas. This was all done in a very conscious effort to make sure that there would be Hindus. We even invited Muslims to our family dinners during the Christmas festival. I remember being told that the true meaning of Christmas is the birthday of Jesus Christ, which is a historical event that took place in the year 1 BC. This is the central theme of the Christmas festival, which is celebrated around the world. The festival is celebrated by Christians on December 25, and is a time for giving and receiving gifts. It is a time for families to come together and share a meal. The Christmas festival is celebrated with great joy and enthusiasm, and is a time for reflection and prayer.

When asked why he paid this tax, he declined to answer anything. The tax story has played out in many ways, and has been a topic of discussion and debate. The tax system in India is quite complex and consists of various taxes, such as excise duty, sales tax, and value-added tax. The tax laws in India are set by the Union government and are enforced by the state governments.

Delhi schools reopen for Class X, XII

Delhi schools will be conducting offline board exams next year as per the CBSE regulations, Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia said on Thursday.

"The CBSE guidelines have been issued in the light of the start of nationwide lockdowns. Parents have been asked to send their children to schools," Sisodia said.

"Delhiites do not have to worry about examinations as the CBSE has already issued the guidelines," Sisodia added.

The news comes two days after the Delhi government announced that schools would reopen for Class X and XII from Monday, with attendance being optional.

Sisodia said they planned to inform more than 800,000 schools about the CBSE’s decision.

"Some restaurants said they plan to inform more than 800,000 customers from Delhi in the next few days," Sisodia said.

Sisodia and other officials said they are taking adequate precautions to boost consumer sentiment.

"We have already struggled with the impact of Covid and now we are dealing with this. Our sales are down by about 30% since the news of the CBSE’s decision," said Sajid, who runs a cafe in the city.

"We are going to have to undergo further restrictions, which may further hit our business," Sajid said.

"The CBSE guidelines are a welcome move," said Sanjay, who runs a restaurant in Delhi.

"However, we are still worried about the impact of the lockdown on our business," Sanjay said.

Memo: India key to US plan in Indo-Pacific, counter to China

The US Secretary of State Antony Blinken’s visit to India on Monday is expected to cement bilateral ties and set the stage for further cooperation. The visit comes amid growing concerns about China’s activities in the Indo-Pacific region.

The US government is formulating a strategy to counter China’s influence in the Indo-Pacific region. The US government has been actively engaging with India to strengthen their strategic partnership. The visit is seen as an important step in this direction.

In his remarks, Blinken emphasized the importance of India as a strategic partner. He highlighted the progress made in the Indo-Pacific region and the need to continue working together to address common challenges.

Blinken also spoke about the importance of multilateralism and the role that the US and India can play in promoting a rules-based international order. He emphasized the need for countries to work together to address global challenges, including climate change and pandemics.

The US government has been working to build a coalition of countries that share its concerns about China’s activities in the Indo-Pacific region. India has been an active member of this coalition, and the visit is seen as an important step in building further momentum.

The visit is also expected to address a range of other issues, including economic and trade relations, cybersecurity, and counterterrorism.

In conclusion, the visit is seen as a significant development in the Indo-Pacific region. The US government is committed to working closely with India to address common challenges and build a more stable and prosperous region for all.

NCB arrests Nawab Malik’s son-in-law

Mohamed Thaver

The Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) on Wednesday arrested a son-in-law of Maharashtra Home Minister Nawab Malik, a resident of Bandra, for alleged involvement in drug trafficking.

The NCB, in a press release, said it had initiated an investigation under the Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985, following which it arrested Sameer Khan, son-in-law of Malik, at his residence in Bandra.

The NCB had received information that Sameer Khan, a resident of Bandra, was involved in drug trafficking.

Sameer Khan, who is a resident of the minority development and skills education minister in the state, was arrested on Thursday, 7th of June, 2021, for alleged involvement in drug trafficking. A police team, acting on information, conducted raids at his residence in Bandra and seized a substantial amount of contraband.

The NCB had also arrested Ram Chandra Saojani, a resident of Mauza Sajnani, near Sanjay Gandhi National Park in Greater Noida, who was allegedly involved in the drug racket.

The NCB had recovered the drug from Ram Chandra Saojani and had arrested him in connection with the case. Ram Chandra Saojani had been accused of supplying drugs to Sameer Khan, who had been arrested earlier in the same case.

Bihar Police forms SIT to probe Indigo executive’s murder

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
PATNA, JANUARY 13

The Bihar government on Wednesday set up a special investigation team (SIT) to look into the murder of a 30-year-old Indigo Airlines executive shot dead outside his residence in Patna on Tuesday.

Shivendra Singh, an administrative officer of the state police headquarters in Patna, said the police had arrested a 23-year-old man in connection with the killing.

The SIT, which was formed on the orders of Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, would probe the case thoroughly, he said. "We have arrested a 23-year-old man who was found in possession of the weapon used in the murder," Singh said.

The SIT has been instructed to conduct a thorough investigation and bring the accused to justice, he added.

A GOOD PHONE should have four clear traits: it must have clarity in objectives, strategic design, implementation and outcomes. For example, the objective of the national roll-out can be to set up, check and clear the logistics of immunisation and/or reduce or mitigate mortality, morbidity and/or disease burden. When we talk about vaccine coverage for the age group 0-6 months, this is a clear objective. But if we talk about the capacity of the vaccine price point, the strategy, funding and outcomes will vary.

In the COVID-19 scenario roll-out, there is no debate about the role of the vaccine. The question was why the government of the price point was not prepared for the programme. We were not clear about the potential for a potential for a potential to boost the capacity at a modest price point. The strategy made up to six months ago, and the funding was adequate.

Of the 82-93 cold chain points, half are in the five major states—Maharashtra and Gujarat and the states of the North Central region, with over 76.7 percent of the country’s population served. Combined with poor human resources—doctors, nurses, pharmacists—only a weak private sector participates. Accessibility, safety and standards, proper price range, infrastructure and poor communication in terms of fiscal space, the capacity to implement with the speed of proper health and capacity is daunting.

WHERE EXACTLY this separation is of a different order is not clear. But one thing is evident: it is not one of the right times to talk about it. Making the tax base wider is an idea whose time has come. But this is a moment when the economy is in deep distress. The primary deficit of the Centre and the states, which is likely to be around 5.5 per cent of GDP this fiscal, is a consequence of the economic collapse caused by the pandemic. It is too soon to talk about major structural changes to the tax system. We need to first run on the road and then think about whether we need to change our engine. The budget deficit of FY20-21 is likely to touch 5.5 per cent of GDP. This is a worse situation than the pre-COVID forecast of 3.5 per cent. There are two key reasons for the larger deficit. First, the government has had to increase its spending to keep the economy afloat. Second, the government had to lower the corporate tax rate to 22 per cent from 30 per cent, which is a significant revenue loss. The government has also had to increase spending for COVID-19 related healthcare, support to households and businesses, and also for the MSP public distribution system.

BIP—which stands for basic income pension—was an election promise of the Congress. The idea is that every Indian citizen above the age of 65 should receive a basic income of Rs 7,000 per month, starting from October 2020. This would be an additional financial burden on the government budget. The government needs to think carefully before implementing BIP. First, it will be difficult to administer the scheme. The government will need to identify all citizens who are above 65 years of age. This will be a huge task. Second, the cost of the scheme will be very high. According to estimates, the cost of implementing BIP could be around Rs 10 lakh crore per year. This is a significant financial burden on the government budget.

The government has also announced the Kisan Credit Card (KCC) scheme, which provides loans to farmers at 0 per cent interest. The government has also announced the Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi (PM-KISAN) scheme, which provides a direct cash transfer of Rs 6,000 per year to all farmers. These schemes have been successful in increasing the income of farmers. However, the government needs to think carefully before implementing BIP. First, the cost of the scheme will be very high. Second, the government needs to ensure that the scheme is administered properly. Otherwise, it may lead to misuse of the funds.

The government has also announced the Moratorium scheme, which allows farmers to postpone their loan repayments for up to 1 year. This scheme has been successful in reducing the financial burden on farmers. However, the government needs to think carefully before implementing BIP. First, the cost of the scheme will be very high. Second, the government needs to ensure that the scheme is administered properly. Otherwise, it may lead to misuse of the funds.

The government has also announced the PM-KAAM scheme, which provides a loan of Rs 1 lakh to young entrepreneurs for starting a business. This scheme has been successful in promoting entrepreneurship. However, the government needs to think carefully before implementing BIP. First, the cost of the scheme will be very high. Second, the government needs to ensure that the scheme is administered properly. Otherwise, it may lead to misuse of the funds.

Bhopal, January 13

After a Session Court rejected Babli's bail plea in a 2000 kidnap case, the Bhopal police on Wednesday set a date for the remand by two weeks.

The court had earlier rejected Babli's bail plea, adding that he had been under arrest since January 24, 2000, only to grant bail on February 17, 2000. The court on Wednesday said the accused should be remanded for two weeks. The court also directed the police to submit the record of the investigation to the court.

FIR against Muslim man

GORAKHPUR POLICE has registered an FIR again a Muslim man on the ground that he had not returned from college, forcing her to convert.

The police registered the FIR after the woman, who had been married to the man, lodged a missing person report, stating that he had left her just a day ago.

The police said that after the woman's father lodged a report, they traced the accused and he was found to be staying his college in a different city.

Police registered the FIR under sections 366 (kidnapping, abduction, etc.) and 367 (conversion to another religion) of the Indian Penal Code.

First rice, now wheat

India's wheat exports are set to hit record highs in the coming months, with the country expected to export around 20 million tonnes of the crop this year.

According to sources, the country has already exported around 2.5 million tonnes of wheat this year, and is expected to export about 15 million tonnes in the current financial year.

India, the world's second-largest producer of wheat, is predicted to enjoy a bumper harvest this year, with the crop expected to touch its highest levels in decades.

Haryana BJP

Haryana BJP has slammed the government for not taking enough action against farmers in the recent Lohri protests.

The BJP has accused the government of not taking adequate action against farmers who blocked roads and burned copies of farm laws during the Lohri protests.

Teltumbde bail plea says he is critical of Maoist ideology

FORMER IIT professor Anand Teltumbde on Wednesday said he is critical of Maoist ideology and the charges against him are unproven. Teltumbde is an IIT professor and a Maoist supporter who has written about 30 books and articles on anti-imperialism and annihilation of caste. The bail plea filed by Teltumbde's lawyer states that the charges against him are unproven and that he is a critic of Maoist ideology.

“The bail plea file to the Court states that the charges against him are unproven and that he is a critic of Maoist ideology. The bail plea also highlights the fact that he has written articles and books in support of anti-imperialism and annihilation of caste. It is argued that the charges against him are baseless and that he has been targeted for his political views,” the bail plea states.

Teltumbde has previously been arrested by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) and has been charged with sedition and other charges related to the Elgar Parishad event in 2017. He has been in custody since 2018 and is currently being held at Nanavati Hospital.

The bail plea states that Teltumbde has been shifted to Nanavati Hospital on his request and that his health is critical. The bail plea also states that Teltumbde has been denied access to his medical records and that his health has been deteriorating in custody.

The bail plea requests that Teltumbde be granted bail and that his medical condition be monitored.

The bail plea states that Teltumbde is a respected professor and has written extensively on anti-imperialism and annihilation of caste. It is argued that the charges against him are baseless and that he has been targeted for his political views.

The bail plea also highlights the fact that Teltumbde has been denied access to his medical records and that his health has been deteriorating in custody.

The bail plea concludes that Teltumbde should be granted bail and that his medical condition be monitored.

WASHINGTON, JANUARY 13

North Korea’s leader, Kim Jong Un, was strangely silent Tuesday about the disappearance of his sister after she was out of sight of the cameras for nearly two weeks, raising questions about his health or a possible political ouster. Kim Yo Jong, 32, sat on the leadership council of the Politburo, the chief policy-making body at the heart of North Korea’s government.

Why a razing in Jaffna recalls Sri Lanka's unaddressed Tamil question

NIRUPAMA SURJUDWAL

The demolition on Friday night of a memorial in Jaffna University in northern Sri Lanka to remember Tamil victims of the civil war has evoked memories of the violence preceding and following the 2009 military offensive that marked the end of the civil war between the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam and the Sri Lankan government.

Memorial(s) on campus

University officials were surprised when they discovered on Friday night that the memorial in the campus that had already been ordered to be taken down by the government after the violence was taking place. It was a memorial that had been erected in 2014 to commemorate the victims of the civil war.

How MF risk-o-meter will work

Starting Jan 1, fund houses must disclose how risky a particular mutual fund scheme is, from 'low' to 'very high'. How will the risk be calculated, and how will it help investors make more informed decisions?

Simple Put Question & Answer

What is Parler, now-muted right-wing platform?

Parler is a micro-blogging social network, called "alternative to Twitter and Facebook." Parler did not remove such content. The platform’s "free speech" atmosphere is similar to Twitter. Users can see all posts from everyone on their timeline.

What’s Parler's link to the events of January 6?

Parler was booted from major platforms after the US Capitol riot. According to a Reuters report, Facebook and Twitter had warned Parler about the repeated calls for violence leading up to the Capitol riots. The tech companies did not remove such content.

How will the risk-o-meter work?

The risk-o-meter will be mapped to the risk level of schemes, based on their portfolio of securities. It will be declared by fund houses.

What is the Jan 12 figure in the graph?

The Jan 12 figure in this graph is based on the government update on Jan 13.

What is MF risk-o-meter?

A risk-o-meter allows investors to get more objective assessment of the riskiness of their schemes on a scale from "Low" to "Very High." Investors will be able to find the risk level of each of their schemes and, with that knowledge, make better investment decisions.

How will the risk be calculated?

The risk will be calculated based on the exposure of mutual fund schemes to different risk categories. The exposure of schemes will be calculated using the risk-o-meter. The risk-o-meter will be mapped to the risk level of schemes, based on their portfolio of securities. It will be declared by fund houses.

What is the risk-o-meter?

The risk-o-meter is a tool that helps investors assess the risk level of mutual fund schemes. The risk level will be mapped to the risk level of schemes, based on their portfolio of securities. It will be declared by fund houses.

What is the risk level?

The risk level is a measure of the exposure of mutual fund schemes to different risk categories. The exposure of schemes will be calculated using the risk-o-meter. HC seeks Future Retail stand on Amazon plea

New Delhi: A Delhi High Court bench has asked Future Retail Ltd to respond to Amazon India’s plea seeking an early hearing on the plea against the order passed by the Competition Commission of India (CCI) on February 12, in the matter of digital payments, online shopping platforms and e-commerce.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
NEW DELHI, Jan 13

Amazon India on Tuesday asked the Competition Commission of India (CCI) to stay its order passed on February 12, in the matter of digital payments, online shopping platforms and e-commerce.

Amid the ongoing legal tussle between Amazon India and Future Retail Ltd before the CCI, the company has sought an urgent hearing on the plea.

The CCI, in its order passed on February 12, has asked Future Retail to file a reply by March 10. The Amazon India had, on February 12, sought an early hearing on the plea.

The Competition Commission of India has ordered Future Retail to file a reply to Amazon’s reply by March 10.

The department of commerce and industry has also written to CCI asking it to consider “early hearing” of the appeal.

The CCI had held Future Retail had committed “abuse of dominant position” by “coercing” e-commerce companies to make all payments through Future Retail’s payment gateway.

The CCI had also ordered that the company’s all digital payments will have to be redirected to the “unrelated and neutral” payment gateway of Amazon.

The CCI had also asked Future Retail to pay all dues due to Amazon as well as to look into the matter and ensure that Future Retail’s employee’s do not abuse their dominant position.

The CCI had also ordered Future Retail to pay the dues due to Amazon as well as to look into the matter and ensure that Future Retail’s employee’s do not abuse their dominant position.

Aashurdeenbeets

54-ball 137 to blow away Malaysia

Sydney Test hero RatchanandAthmannatout for a century in Sydney.

I would never forget the surreal moment when Ashwin walked out to bat in the evening. We cried, we laughed. We didn't know how to react. It wasn't euphoric, cry that was after the Melbourne win in the second Test. That had a different feel.

When Ashwin was walking out to bat in the evening, we were not sure if he had hurt his back from the day before. After a scientific mind-set error method of testing, he left the field. The thought of him talking to the physio to think about the back pain entering his face was worrying. If something happened wrong? Don’t ask. Don’t talk. I thought at that moment, the pain was too much but the team was not aware of the back pain. That moment was out of my body. Back pain, whatever it was.

He seemed to get back in control. The two were walking. ‘Talk to the physio,’ I told. ‘Talk to him, he knows the pain.’ They started, I continued. I thought it was still there.

I was in the hotel lobby with the chemistry team. They don’t really know too much about what was going on. But I thought it was still there. When I saw them, I thought it was still there.

While there is general acceptance that Covid-19 was transmitted from someone in the team, it is not clear if the infected individual was from someone in the team or someone coming from outside the team. The team is not commenting on the matter.

I had no idea what to expect when I saw Ash. The rise-up and shout-out was something I had not seen before. The way he cut short the outward journey and made the return journey.

I thought it was something you had to look out for something. The next thought was that he had been taken for granted. I thought that I had seen Ash in him before. I was sure of him before. I was sure of him.
