MDH’s asli: the Mahashey of Spices with a taste for life

On the morning of Thursday, the famous MDH spices brand announced the death of its founder, Mahashay Gulati, a person who spent his life promoting the brand across the world. He was 92.

For fifty years, Mahashay Gulati was the face and voice of MDH spices. Known for his catchphrase, "MDH: Masalo ki dukan, kuch bhi dekh ke, kuch bhi dekhne ke," he was a cultural phenomenon and a cultural icon in India.

"MDH is not just a brand, but a way of life," said the company’s spokesperson. "Mahashay was the soul of MDH, and his legacy will continue to inspire us to uphold the quality and tradition of our spices.

"He was a visionary and a leader who saw the potential in spices and turned it into a global business. His passion for spices and his commitment to quality have made MDH a household name.

"We will miss him dearly, but his legacy will live on in every pot and pan across the country.

Germany artist's museum to be built

The German artist Anselm Kiefer is set to have a museum built in his honor in Germany. The museum will be located in the town where Kiefer was born, and it will be the first of its kind to be built in Germany.

"This is a great honor for our country," said the mayor of the town. "Kiefer was a great artist who showed the world the beauty of the German landscape.

"We are proud to have such a great artist as a part of our heritage.

The museum will be completed in 2022 and will house the largest collection of Kiefer’s work.

"We are excited to share his art with the world and to celebrate his contribution to art history.

"Please join us in celebrating this incredible achievement.

Opp lend wings, urges Centre to rethink laws

The Centre today, in an apparent bid to assuage growing farmer protest, indicated it was ready for a meeting with theels now a more difficult task, the Centre has been asked to sit with the farmers. Despite that, in the past two weeks, the Centre has been at loggerheads with the farmers, who have been insisting that the Centre needs to scrap the three new farm laws. The Centre asked the farmers to come forward with a single demand.

The Centre’s u-turn came after a series of protests by farmers at the Delhi-Gurugram and Delhi-Haryana borders. The Centre has also promised to organize a meeting with the farmers to discuss the new laws.

The Centre has been faced with growing protests by farmers, who have been blockading the highways leading to Delhi and demanding the repeal of the three new farm laws. The Centre has been under pressure to hold talks with the farmers to resolve the issue.

The Centre had earlier made it clear that it would not hold any talks with the farmers until they come forward with a single demand. However, the Centre has now agreed to meet with the farmers.

Majherhat Bridge reopens, CM faults Rlys for delay

CHIEF MINISTER Mamata Banerjee on Thursday inaugurated the four-lane Majherhat Bridge, which had remained unfinished for two years and claimed that the project got delayed by nine months as the railway took time to get requisite permission.

Banerjee also came down heavily on the BJP for staging a stir to get permission for the bridge in September 2018, killing three people. The bridge, connecting Behala with south Kolkata, had collapsed in 2018, killing three people. The Kolkata Port Trust also gave a bribe of Rs55 crore for demolishing the bridge.

The CM also alleged that the state’s financial crisis was due to the money spent on the bridge, which was taken to enhance the state’s prestige. The ₹85,000 crore deficit and the state’s failure to clear its dues of around ₹2,200 crore led to the current financial crisis.

Kolkata: TMC leaders and MLAs started leaving the party after a meeting on Thursday, sources said. The rift in the West Bengal unit of the Trinamool Congress (TMC) has widened.

“Something is coming. It is true. There is a group of people who have started leaving the party,” a source said.

The source did not say how many MLAs have left the party but added that it is not a small number. “We have already started preparing for the worst,” the source added.

The situation was discussed in a high-level meeting of the TMC's state council on Thursday evening. The meeting is understood to have been attended by party chief Mamata Banerjee, the whips and other top leaders.

The source said that a group of TMC leaders had requested permission to resign but were not granted it by the party chief.

According to sources, the party is also preparing to contest the upcoming civic body elections alone, if the situation does not improve.

The TMC had won a landslide victory in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections in West Bengal, winning 42 of the 42 seats.

The party is now facing a series of challenges, including a slowdown in the state's economy and a decline in its popularity.

No night curfew in capital, Delhi govt tells high court

The Delhi government on Friday told the high court that there is no need to impose a night curfew, in response to a plea seeking its imposition.

"There is no need to impose night curfew," a counsel for the Delhi government told the court on Friday.

The court was hearing a plea seeking imposition of a night curfew because of the coronavirus pandemic.

The petition was filed by lawyer Pradeep Panigrahi on behalf of one Akash Pathak on the premise that the public interest would be better served by imposing a night curfew in Delhi.

He said that the first night curfew was imposed in March 2020 due to the coronavirus pandemic and later it was removed.

"The public interest would be better served by imposing a night curfew in Delhi," the petitioner had submitted.

The court was hearing a 1980 ordinance of the South Delhi municipal corporation which provides for testing and enforcing compliance with orders made by the corporation on public health, public hygiene and public safety.

The petitioner had said that the ordinance empowered the Delhi government to impose a night curfew in the national capital.

Hearing a plea by advocates Vishal Mehta and Tanmay Mehta for the petitioner, the court deferred its order on the request of the Delhi government for one day.

Mr. Mehta said the petitioner has been aggrieved in four counts—first, the Delhi government could not ensure the implementation of the directions issued in paragraph 4 of the Delhi government’s letter on the directions issued in paragraph 4 of the Delhi government’s letter, which contended that it is “contrary to the public interest to impose a night curfew in the national capital,” he said.

The petitioner said the Delhi government’s letter also expressed unhappiness over enforcement of the instructions.

Mr. Mehta submitted that the petitioner has no alternative but to file the present plea as the next date has been fixed on December 10.

He submitted that the court could consider staying the order with the condition that the Delhi government does not discontinue the night curfew.

Mr. Mehta submitted that the court could consider staying the order with the condition that the Delhi government does not discontinue the night curfew.

Terming the petition as misconceived, the court deferred its order on the request of the Delhi government for one day.

A bench of Chief Justice D. N. Khanna and Justice Shalini Phani Bhushan disposed of the plea.

"We appreciate the interest of the petitioner in public health. We agree that the petitioner has a legitimate concern when it comes to enforcing the directions issued by the Delhi government," it said.

"However, the court cannot condone the petitioner’s approach of filing a suit on a forum that is not empowered to pass an order which curtails the power of the executive to impose a night curfew," it added.

The government argues that these laws facilitate faster business deals in the country to get minimum prices. It is further argued that such laws are not important to farmers, who get paid according to the fluctuating market prices. The farmers argue that the current system of procurement by states at higher prices and export profits would ensure better prices for farmers, who get prices far lower than those paid by private traders, as well as benefit the government.

The farmers contend that the Acts will be fallacious and based on theoretical propositions. STAIRS PRASAD MONDOLY PROPERTY PORT KOLKATA (KISHORE KOLKATA PROPERTY)
Army reforms: Govt approves Deputy Chief of Strategy post

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, CISF Gen Bipin Rawat

A MARRIAGE structure at the top of the military pyramid for which one was left feeling a bit disappointed. The move was not entirely approved by the Rajnath Singh-led cabinet on December 3, the government said in a statement, despite the Prime Minister and the Defencejunior minister for Defence, Rajnath Singh and other senior officials later meeting with Prime Minister Narendra Modi to finalise proposed changes in the armed forces structure.

The new Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) structure is seen as a significant move to streamline the military command structure and improve coordination between the three services—Army, Navy, and Air Force. The move is part of a broader effort to modernise the armed forces and enhance their combat readiness.

The new structure involves the establishment of a Chief of Defence Staff (CDS), who will be the “single point of advice” to the Prime Minister on matters of military strategy and policy. The CDS will be appointed by the President with the consent of the Rajya Sabha.

The CDS will be assisted by a vice chief of staff and a joint chief of staff. The joint chief of staff will be the senior-most officer in the armed forces, and will be responsible for day-to-day military operations.

The move is part of a larger vision to make the armed forces more efficient and responsive to changing security dynamics. The CDS structure is expected to improve coordination and decision-making, thereby enhancing the overall combat readiness of the armed forces.

However, the move has also faced criticism, with some arguing that it could lead to a dilution of the role of the Chief of Army Staff (COAS) and other service chiefs. There are concerns about the potential for turf wars and the creation of new military hierarchies.

The government has said that it has taken this step after consultations with the Prime Minister and other senior officials. The move is seen as a step towards modernising the armed forces and enhancing their combat readiness.

Gold prices now drop, but it makes sense to stay invested

PTI

Gold prices dropped by 5.7% since the first announcement on venture trade, and was $1,480 per ounce on Thursday. Then gold prices plunged over 1.5% on Monday and remained flat on Tuesday. By Thursday, the price had recovered to $1,500 per ounce. However, gold prices have been volatile in recent weeks, with a sharp decline in the price of gold, which hit its lowest level in two years at $1,450 per ounce. In the global market, the price of gold dropped 5.7% since the first announcement.

THOUSANDS OF Covid-19 cases have been reported in the world, and the number of deaths continues to rise. In India, the situation is dire, with more than 100,000 cases reported in the last 24 hours. The government has announced a lockdown to contain the spread of the virus. However, the lockdown has not been effective in reducing the number of cases. In fact, the number of cases continues to rise, with more than 1 million cases reported in the last week.

Covid can impact the hearts of children too: case study

The effect of Covid-19 on children has been a concern for many. The pandemic has led to a surge in cases of children with heart diseases. In a recent study, it was found that children with heart diseases were more likely to contract Covid-19. The study also found that children with heart diseases were more likely to have a severe course of the disease. The study recommends that children with heart diseases be monitored closely during the pandemic.

Rajinikanth can launch a new party: Here’s what you need to know

On Wednesday, the popular Tamil actor Rajinikanth announced that he will launch a new political party in the next few weeks. This comes after his statement that he will not contest in the next election. The party will be named "Makkal Needhi Maiyal" and will focus on national issues. Rajinikanth has also announced that he will not contest in the next election.

Covid-19: India records 13,883 new cases, 269 fresh deaths

India recorded 13,883 new cases of Covid-19 on Thursday, marking a decline in the number of cases. The death toll increased by 269, bringing the total to 1,04,590. The number of recoveries also increased, with 20,980 people recovered, bringing the total to 8,50,200. The recovery rate is now 92.6%.

Ahead of polls, what Rajinikanth’s political plunge means for Tamil Nadu

Ahead of the Lok Sabha elections, Tamil Nadu has become a key battleground for political parties. The ruling AIADMK, led by Jayalalithaa, faces several challenges, including a loss of support among its traditional voters. The DMK, led by M.K. Stalin, is trying to capitalise on this situation. The Congress and the Left are also trying to make inroads in the state. In this context, Rajinikanth’s political plunge could have a significant impact on the outcome of the elections.

What happened to the proposal to grant postal voting rights to NRIs?

In 2015, the Election Commission of India recommended that citizens who had been living abroad for more than 15 years should be allowed to vote as NRIs. The proposal was supported by the Indian government, but was not implemented. In 2017, the government announced that it would provide NRIs with voting rights, but the proposal was not implemented.

Do you believe in the potential of a political party led by Rajinikanth?

Rajinikanth has announced that he will launch a new political party called "Makkal Needhi Maiyal". The party will focus on national issues and will contest in the Lok Sabha elections. It remains to be seen whether the party will have a significant impact on the outcome of the elections.

How do NRIs vote in India?

 NRIs can vote in India through postal voting. They can also vote if they are in India on the day of the election.

How do you think the gold market will perform in the coming months?

Gold prices have been volatile in recent months, with a sharp decline in the price of gold, which hit its lowest level in two years at $1,450 per ounce. In the global market, the price of gold dropped 5.7% since the first announcement.

The simple truth behind the sell-off in gold is that investors are moving away from risky assets in favor of safer ones, such as government bonds. The Federal Reserve’s decision to keep interest rates low has also contributed to the decline in the price of gold.

What is the impact of Covid-19 on gold prices?

Covid-19 has had a significant impact on gold prices. The global economic downturn has led to a decline in demand for gold, which is often used as a safe-haven asset. The price of gold has also been affected by the US-China trade war, which has led to a decline in demand for gold.

Why should you continue with your investments in gold?

Gold is a hedge against inflation and a safe asset in times of economic uncertainty. It is also a good investment for long-term wealth preservation. Gold prices are influenced by several factors, including commodity prices, economic conditions, and investor sentiment.

How do you think the gold market will perform in the coming months?

Gold prices have been volatile in recent months, with a sharp decline in the price of gold, which hit its lowest level in two years at $1,450 per ounce. In the global market, the price of gold dropped 5.7% since the first announcement.

The simple truth behind the sell-off in gold is that investors are moving away from risky assets in favor of safer ones, such as government bonds. The Federal Reserve’s decision to keep interest rates low has also contributed to the decline in the price of gold.

What is the impact of Covid-19 on gold prices?

Covid-19 has had a significant impact on gold prices. The global economic downturn has led to a decline in demand for gold, which is often used as a safe-haven asset. The price of gold has also been affected by the US-China trade war, which has led to a decline in demand for gold.

Why should you continue with your investments in gold?

Gold is a hedge against inflation and a safe asset in times of economic uncertainty. It is also a good investment for long-term wealth preservation. Gold prices are influenced by several factors, including commodity prices, economic conditions, and investor sentiment.

Bahrainis are divided over the decision to maintain restrictions and continue the lockdown despite the decrease in cases of coronavirus. The government announced that the lockdown would be continued for another month, despite the decrease in the number of new cases.

The government's decision to extend the lockdown has been met with mixed reactions. While some people welcomed the move, arguing that it was necessary to prevent the spread of the virus, others criticized it, saying that it was politically motivated and would have a negative impact on the economy.

The decision to maintain restrictions has sparked controversy, with some calling for a stronger response to control the spread of the virus, while others believe that the government should be more lenient and allow businesses to reopen.

The government's decision to extend the lockdown has also raised concerns about the impact on the economy. Many businesses have been forced to close, leading to job losses and a decrease in economic activity. The government has announced that it will provide financial support to businesses and workers affected by the lockdown, but it remains to be seen whether this will be sufficient to mitigate the effects on the economy.

The decision to maintain restrictions has also raised concerns about the impact on public health. While the number of new cases has decreased, there are still concerns about the possibility of a second wave of infections. The government has announced that it will continue to monitor the situation closely and adjust its restrictions as necessary.

The decision to maintain restrictions has also raised concerns about the impact on the quality of life. Many people are finding it difficult to continue their daily routines, with schools, businesses, and public services remaining closed.

The Indian services sector continued to expand in May, according to a survey by HSBC Research and Caerholl, with the index rising to 54.8 in May from 49.4 in April. This is the second highest figure in the past year and a half, the researchers said.

The researchers said that the sector has been on a growth trajectory since November 2020, and the current momentum is expected to continue in the coming months.

However, the researchers also noted that the expansion is being driven by domestic demand, and that exports are still lagging behind. They also pointed out that the sector is facing challenges related to supply chain disruptions and labor shortages.

Despite these challenges, the Indian services sector remains optimistic about the future, with many firms planning to increase their workforce and invest in new technologies. The researchers noted that the sector is well positioned to benefit from the growing appetite for services in emerging markets, and that it has the potential to become a major player in the global services market.

Why Ahmedabad is the front runner to bag one of two new IPL franchises

Ahmedabad is the front runner to bag one of two new IPL franchises because it has a proven track record of success. The city has a large and enthusiastic cricket fan base, which is reflected in the high demand for tickets. The local government has also been proactive in promoting cricket and sports in the region. Additionally, Ahmedabad has a strong infrastructure and facilities to support an IPL team, including a world-class stadium. The city has a good track record of hosting international cricket matches and has a strong team of administrators and bureaucrats to support the team's operations. Ahmedabad's proximity to other cricket-playing regions also makes it a convenient location for the team to travel to and from matches.

The decision to locate an IPL team in Ahmedabad was made by the BCCI's cricket committee, which considered various factors before finalizing the decision. These factors included the city's cricket infrastructure, fan base, and support from the local government. Ahmedabad's track record of success in hosting cricket matches and its strong administration were also considered as key factors in the decision to make it the home base for an IPL team.

How will the BCCI fit in an additional number of matches?

With the addition of two new IPL franchises, the BCCI will need to adjust the number of matches to ensure that the league remains competitive and entertaining. The BCCI will need to work closely with the new franchises to ensure that they are able to participate in the league and to ensure that the league remains financially viable. The BCCI will also need to consider the impact of adding two new franchises on the existing teams and the impact of new teams on the existing ecosystem of the league.
