Army got political signal to identify, occupy ‘6-7 locations’ on LAC in May

KIRSHN KAUSHIK
NEW DELHI, DECEMBER 7

The Army’s move to occupy some 6-7 locations in the Chang La sub-sector on the northern LAC after a political go-ahead in May to occupy “six to seven locations” along the line of Actual Control (LAC), a senior government official told The Indian Express.

Following these directions, the official said, the Army identified and occupied some 6-7 locations on the northern LAC in May itself, to identify and occupy the locations.

The official said that the identification and occupation of the locations was done under the guidance of the Chief of Defence Staff, General Bipin Rawat.

The Chief had instructed the Army to occupy the locations on the northern LAC in May itself. The decision was taken in coordination with the Union Defence Ministry.

The official said the locations were identified and occupied in coordination with the Border Roads Organisation (BRO) to ensure that the Army was able to occupy and hold the locations.

People from various villages under the banner of the ‘stayways against sex discrimination in the workplace act’ have been petitioning for the government’s approval.

In protest, the government had rejected the petitions. The Bhagavad Gita Act was passed in the 1980s to protect women from violence in the workplace.

The Bhagavad Gita Act requires employers to provide a safe working environment for women and punish those who violate the act.

The government had also signed an agreement with the World Bank to support the implementation of the Bhagavad Gita Act.

Pawar hasn’t understood Rahul Gandhi well: Thorat

State Congress chief Ashok Thorat on Monday shot down the suggestions of Congress president Rahul Gandhi that the former should not contest the upcoming Assembly elections in the state.

Thorat said there was no question of him sitting on the sidelines, but that he was considering the Congress’ leadership. The landlord’s president had once again clarified that he was confident of contesting the Assembly polls.

However, another former president of the state Congress, Prashant Kishor, a senior aide of Rahul Gandhi, had earlier suggested that Thorat should not contest in the upcoming polls.

Earlier in December, Thorat had rebuffed suggestions that he should be given the chance to contest from a single seat, as the party president had refused to contest from any seat as per the INC’s directions.

In contrast to the nationwide Congress’ decision, the state Congress had decided to contest the Assembly polls, and Thorat was the likely candidate from the loca seat.

Thorat was corresponding to the former at the state Congress president, who had been outspoken against the central government over its decision to rescind the Maharashtra Ombudsman Bill.

Thorat said, “I have been responding to the former at the state Congress president, who has been outspoken against the central government over its decision to rescind the Maharashtra Ombudsman Bill.”

The Congress had been vocal in its condemnation of the central government’s move to rescind the Ombudsman Bill and had lodged a strong protest against the decision.

In a harsh warning to the party’s leaders, BJP state in-charge, Munde clarified that the party would like clarity on the cabinet expansion.

The party is likely to announce the new ministry on December 8, according to Munde.

The BJP state in-charge, however, said that the government does not have clarity on the cabinet expansion.

Munde also expressed his concerns about the cabinet expansion, saying that the party needs more time to decide on the new ministry.

He also said that the party needs to focus on the upcoming state assembly elections in Karnataka.

Franklin Templeton warns of losses in case of vote against wind-up plan

ENSO ECONOMIC BUREAU

Franklin Templeton has warned investors of a substantial loss of value in their investments if they vote against the wind-up scheme in the six schemes that the company proposed on April 23.

The Supreme Court last week directed the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) to hear the petition of the Franklin Templeton Asset Management Company (FTAMC) for winding up the six schemes that the company proposed to wind-up on April 23, directing the tribunal to pass an order within six weeks.

The source said that the

E-VOTING FOR UNITHOLDERS DURING WIND-UP PERIOD

Franklin Templeton has announced the dates for e-voting for unitholders during the winding-up period of the six schemes. The e-voting will be held from October 1 to October 30, 2020, at 10:30 am.

Scheme full redemption not guaranteed

In a letter addressed to unitholders, Franklin Templeton said that the company is inviting e-voting for the scheme to decide whether the unitholders wish to agree to the winding up of the scheme, which will result in the unitholders receiving a final settlement of any money that may be available. The letter also noted that if there is no record of e-voting or if the e-voting results in a failure to agree to the winding up, the unitholders will be wind-up to liquidate and wind-up of the scheme may not be undertaken.

Investor complaint

In a complaint filed with the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), the investor group said that the company had not informed the unitholders about the e-voting process and that the company had not taken the necessary steps to ensure that the e-voting process was fair and transparent. The group also alleged that the company had not provided adequate information to the unitholders about the winding-up process and that the company had not taken the necessary steps to ensure that the unitholders had a fair and transparent opportunity to vote on the winding-up of the scheme.

Franklin Templeton warned that if the unitholders vote against the winding-up scheme, the company would not be able to ensure a fair and transparent process for the unitholders. The company has also stated that if the unitholders vote against the winding-up scheme, the company would be unable to ensure that the unitholders receive a fair and transparent process for the unitholders.
Yadav impresses in audition for third seamer's slot

From the famed Indian bowling unit, the weight on the ball of the foot – as the late night solar eclipse of cricket rolled over the world during the pandemic season – was taken by Harshwardhan Pandya.

With the way he takes weight on a stable stance without taking aerial, and uses his hip to generate force better, Pandya’s control over newer techniques or different pitches has been impressive.
