At 15.3 degrees, city records coldest day of season

At 15.3 degrees, Mumbai records coldest day of the year. The minimum temperature on Wednesday witnessed a fall, which was the season’s lowest temperature. The minimum temperature recorded at the Santacruz observatory was 15.3 degrees, which is 2.2 degrees below normal. The minimum temperature at the Colaba observatory was 16.6 degrees, which is 2.2 degrees below normal.

According to the forecast by the IMD, the minimum temperature is likely to drop further to 14.6 degrees Celsius in the next 48 hours, while the maximum temperature is expected to rise to 29.7 degrees Celsius.

“Owing to the cold winds from the north, the minimum temperature in and around Mumbai will continue to drop for next three days,” said the IMD. It further predicted a dry spell in the state.

Mumbai police arrest driver, nephew for kidnapping 10-year-old twins

A driver and his nephew were arrested by the Mumbai police on Wednesday for allegedly kidnapping the 10-year-old twins from a showroom in Andheri (west).

The accused, Kapil Sharma (26) and his nephew Vikas (18), were arrested with the help of staff at the showroom. The driver rushed to the school bus that was parked near the showroom and tied up one of the boys with a cloth. By the time the police reached the driver, he was pretending to be normal, said an officer.

A person stopped the driver and threatened him, forcing him to let go of the first boy and head to Juhu PVR to park the car. The driver told the police that at that time, another boy had tied up the other boy and then managed to rescuse himself.

On their way back, a person managed to steal the car and the driver tried to chase after the car at a lake point. The driver informed the police about the incident.

The accused have been booked under the sections of kidnapping, dacoity, and theft. The driver was produced before the court on Thursday and will be produced in court on Friday.

The driver and his nephew had been under police surveillance for two days. The driver contacted his nephew to come to the showroom to take his two sons. The driver then locked up the showroom and left the premises.

ALL ARE SEEDS OF RAIN - THE GREAT FLOOD

GOD'S PLAN

Great Flood Story of Noah

NOAH

1. Noah obeyed the Lord's command by building an ark. The ark was a large vessel designed to hold birds, animals, and people. Noah's family, along with the animals, entered the ark to ensure their survival during the flood.

2. The Lord called Noah to bring forth every living thing, to fill the earth, and to multiply and fill the earth. Noah was instructed to sacrifice a pair of every living thing into the ark.

3. Noah's faith in the Lord's plan is evident in his action. By obeying the Lord's command, Noah demonstrates the importance of trust and faith in divine guidance.

4. The great flood, which covered the entire earth, was a result of Noah's obedience to God's plan. The flood destroyed the earth, except for Noah and his family, who were saved on the ark.

5. The Great Flood is a reminder of the importance of faith and obedience in our lives. It teaches us the value of trusting in God's plan and following His commands.

In a Mumbai hospital, two newborns, conjoined at their chest, were separated at birth. The babies were facedown after the surgery, their chest bones and organs damaged by the tight bond.

The operation took place at the Bavdas Wadia Hospital for Children on January 3. The two babies, siblings, were delivered by caesarean section and were then separated within minutes of birth.

Both babies were born microcephalic, with abnormally small heads, and were given nicknames: Tapsi and Genda. Their parents have not yet been named.

The operation was performed by a team of surgeons, including Dr Anand Grover, representing the JJ Hospital, and Dr Sanjiv Bhatia, a paediatric surgeon.

A total of 11 medical professionals worked on the surgery, including five paediatric surgeons, a neurosurgeon, a cardiothoracic surgeon, an anaesthesiologist, and a neonatologist.

The surgery took place in the intensive care unit of the hospital, with the babies connected to ventilators and monitors.

The operation was successful, and both babies are expected to make a full recovery.

The JJ Hospital is one of the few hospitals in the world with the capability to perform such complex surgeries.

The hospital said in a statement that the surgery was a success and that both babies are doing well.

It is the third time in recent years that the hospital has performed a similar operation.

The hospital has a high success rate in such surgeries, with previous cases showing that the majority of babies survive the operation.

The hospital is now preparing for the next phase of care, which includes physical therapy and rehabilitation.

The hospital has set up a special unit for the care of conjoined twins, and is working closely with other hospitals around the world to share best practices.

than the city and Navi Mumbai, said that after initial apprehension, more parents are now comfortable with the resumption of classes V to VIII.

According to the standard operating procedures and guidelines of the Maharashtra Education Department, 50 percent of seats are assigned for each student. In the first phase, the respective schools were allotted 50 percent of seats. In the second phase, schools will conduct class assessments and examinations in a protest-free environment.

On November 25, the Education Department had reopened more than 5,000 schools in the state for classes V to VIII, said officials.

Amit Chakravarty, Thane school principal, said, “We have resumed classes after the holidays. The students are very happy and excited. We have arranged buses and other facilities to ensure the safety of the students.”

MUMBAI, JANUARY 12

SAWANT DESAI former secretary of the Mumbai BJP and nephew of late Congress leader Ganpatrao Kadam, joined the Shiv Sena on Wednesday. Desai, a former corporator, was inducted into the party by Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray in the presence of Union Minister Nitin Gadkari, on Wednesday.

Desai had joined the BJP in 2014 after he was allegedly strife with the party. Congress in the 2014 Assembly polls. With the induction of Desai, the Sena is now looking to make inroads in Gangaspur, where the BJP has been in power for the last ten years. Sawant’s win, in a BJP constituency, is a significant number to the Sena but did not panic the Sena on Wednesday, “We will join the Sena ahead of the 2023 polls as we hold the view that Desai is a strong candidate and has the potential to win the seat,” an aide of the Sena leader said. Desai is the able leadership of Subash Desai (Akat), Desai maintained.

Biden admin reaches out
US NSA speaks to Dov, Def Secy dials Rajnath

A WEEK after President Joe Biden met in Munich, two of his top national security officials — National Security Adviser Jake Sullivan, who spoke to Dov Peretz, India’s NSA, and Defense Secretary Rajnath Singh — spoke on the phone, completing the set of dialogues that revealed US-India partnership.

On the Donald Trump-era calls, two senior US officials indicated that US and Indian military leaders are ‘deeply committed’ toadversely affecting India-US relations, which are seen as the world’s most powerful military alliances. US-Indian strategic partnership has been a key to sustaining the multi-faceted relations between the two nations.

The call was motivated by the US, and the conversation revolved around India and America’s shared interest in the Indo-Pacific. India-US relations have been rising at a fast pace.

The call also highlighted matters like the US’s decision to withdraw from the Trans-Pacific Partnership, economic engagements, and various other topics. India-US relations have been improving under the Biden administration.

Govt moves a fresh no-confidence motion after an earlier attempt was quashed - continued report on Thursday

The BJP government in Karnataka is set to review Wednesday whether or not to proceed with a fresh no-confidence motion against its ruling coalition partner Congress, which is committed to a “grand alliance” with the Janata Dal (Secular) and the JDS. A fresh no-confidence vote in the Assembly would force Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy’s government to resign on the strength of a ruling party’s collapse. The opposition is also looking for a way out of the crisis.

BENGALURU, JANUARY 27

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

In the meantime, the Congress has notified that it is not in order.

On Wednesday, Horatti, who defeated in the monsoonsession, was appointed the leader of the opposition in the council.

The BJP is reportedly ready to table a no-confidence motion against the Congress-JD(S) alliance in the council, and it is expected to push the matter to a floor debate on Thursday.

From The Indian Express

EXPERTS

Why do viruses mutate?

Viruses are not autonomous entities but are just pieces of genetic information that can replicate themselves only when they are injected into host cells. Unlike humans, they do not carry a cell memory of the previous infection—failing to eliminate infection.

Viruses are mutating all the time. Certain viruses, such as HIV, mutate so fast and frequently that the immune system can never catch up with them. Thus, it is not new for the virus to change over time. By chance or due to environmental pressure, the virus mutates. If the new virus variant is better at infecting, spreading, or evading the host’s immune system, the virus will continue to evolve.

Over the past week, significant new research has been published on the variants of the novel coronavirus that have emerged in several countries. Two of India’s most eminent virologists, who have been explaining a range of issues around the virus and vaccine in The Indian Express, summarise the new findings and evaluate the concerns that they raise.

What are the emerging variants?

Viruses are mutating all the time. Certain viruses, such as HIV, mutate so fast and frequently that the immune system can never catch up with them. Thus, it is not new for the virus to change over time. By chance or due to environmental pressure, the virus mutates. If the new virus variant is better at infecting, spreading, or evading the host’s immune system, the virus will continue to evolve.

Covaxin is effective against UK variant, shows study

A study by researchers from the National Institute of Immunology has shown that India’s Covaxin is effective against the UK variant of the coronavirus.

The study published in bioRxiv found that Covaxin’s neutralising antibodies were effective against the UK variant of SARS-CoV-2.

What are the emerging variants?

Several new variants of the coronavirus have emerged recently, and there are concerns about their potential impact on vaccines and public health.

SARS-CoV-2 has variants.

Viruses have variants, and all viruses have the capability of mutating. However, they do not all have the same ability to mutate. SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes Covid, has the highest mutation rate among coronaviruses. While most coronaviruses mutate once a year, SARS-CoV-2 may mutate every 3-4 months.

The variants are named based on specific locations.

The names of the variants refer to the location of the first known outbreaks. The B117 variant from the UK is called the UK variant, and the B.1.351 variant from South Africa is called the South Africa variant.

What are the questions we have to ask about the variants?

- How are they spreading?
- How effective are the vaccines against them?
- How transmissible are they?
- How deadly are they?
- How do they affect the immune system?

Do vaccines work against the new variants?

So far, the vaccines developed by Pfizer/BioNTech, Moderna, and AstraZeneca have shown high efficacy against the UK variant. However, some studies have suggested that the vaccines may be less effective against the South Africa variant.

What should India be doing?

India should be monitoring and testing for the variants and continuing to develop and administer vaccines. The country should also continue to work on vaccine efficacy studies and clinical trials.

What is the message from this research?

While the variants are concerning, recent research has shown that vaccines are still effective against them. The message is that we need to continue to monitor the variants and continue to develop and administer vaccines to combat the virus.
Despite multiple rounds of talks, India and China are nowhere near a framework for disarmament and de-escalation.

The latest talks between the two nations on the border dispute between India and China on the Line of Actual Control (LAC) have failed to show any signs of a breakthrough. The recent round of talks held on December 4, 2020, did not result in any agreement or significant progress towards resolving the standoff. The border dispute continues to be a source of tension and conflict between the two countries.

The situation in the region has escalated in recent weeks, with both nations deploying additional military resources along the LAC. The stakes are high, with concerns growing about the potential for a larger conflict or military confrontation. The international community is closely watching the situation, with some nations expressing concerns about the risks of a broader conflict in the region.

The border dispute between India and China involves overlapping territorial claims in the Western and Eastern Ladakh areas. The conflict began in June 2020, following a series of incidents along the LAC. The situation has since escalated, with reports of casualties and the deployment of large numbers of troops by both sides.

India and China have been engaged in diplomatic efforts to resolve the dispute, but progress has been slow and the negotiations have been fraught with challenges. The two nations have also held several rounds of military talks to discuss de-escalation measures, but these have not resulted in any significant progress.

The situation is complicated by historical and geopolitical factors, with both nations emphasizing their territorial claims and historical narratives. The dispute is also linked to broader strategic and economic interests, with concerns growing about the impact on regional stability and security.

The international community, including the United Nations, has called for restraint and de-escalation, urging both nations to engage in direct talks to resolve the conflict. The situation remains tense, with both sides maintaining a strong military presence along the LAC. The international community continues to monitor the developments closely, with concerns growing about the potential for a larger conflict in the region.

The border dispute between India and China is a complex and challenging issue that requires careful and sustained diplomatic efforts to resolve. The international community has a vital role to play in supporting a peaceful and sustainable resolution to the conflict, ensuring the stability and security of the region.

The pandemic plateau

Observations from CSIR’s nationwide survey provide grounds for cautious optimism — the worst may be behind us. But it is too early to keep wearing masks, avoid crowded indoor spaces and cancel all travel.

SANTANU PRAJANKA and SONALI DESE

As vaccination begins to move towards the more vulnerable sections of society, the pandemic has entered a plateau phase. While the viral infection rate has come down, the healthcare system across the country is still busy treating a large number of COVID-19 patients who had not been vaccinated. The situation is slowly improving and infections are likely to reduce if vaccination progresses at the current rate.

The situation in India is likely to improve with the increase in the number of vaccines and their potency. This will help in reducing the number of severe cases, hospitalisations and deaths. However, the pandemic is not yet over and it is important to continue following preventive measures such as wearing masks, maintaining social distancing, and getting vaccinated.

Despite the ongoing vaccination drive, the pandemic is not over yet. It is important to continue following preventive measures such as wearing masks, maintaining social distancing, and getting vaccinated. The situation is likely to improve with the increase in the number of vaccines and their potency.

Manas Ray

WTH ongoing advances in the manufacture of vaccines, the global community is optimistic about the end of the pandemic. However, the emergence of a new variant, the B.1.1.7 variant, may prolong the pandemic. This variant was first identified in the United Kingdom and has since spread to other countries.

The B.1.1.7 variant is highly transmissible and appears to be more infectious than the original COVID-19 strain. It is also more resistant to antibodies and vaccines. This poses a challenge to the global vaccination efforts. It is important to continue following preventive measures such as wearing masks, maintaining social distancing, and getting vaccinated.

The situation is likely to improve with the increase in the number of vaccines and their potency. This will help in reducing the number of severe cases, hospitalisations and deaths. India has significantly reduced its carbon emissions in the past two decades, but in recent years, it has increased its emissions. This increase is mainly due to the rapidly growing economy and the rapid urbanisation of the country. The government has set a target to achieve net-zero emissions by 2070. To achieve this target, it is important to continue following preventive measures such as wearing masks, maintaining social distancing, and getting vaccinated.

In the United States, a significant shift in approach has been observed in the way tech giants handle content that could incite violence, as some companies have taken steps to ramp up deliveries to states over the next few weeks. President Biden has been instrumental in coordinating with state officials to ensure the timely delivery of vaccines. He has been working closely with health officials to address the pandemic, which has resulted in fewer deaths and improved public health outcomes. The President's efforts have been praised by health experts and public officials alike. In addition to vaccine distribution, the Biden administration has been active in implementing stricter laws and regulations to prevent outbreaks and contain the spread of the virus. The President's commitment to public health and safety has been evident in his approach to the pandemic, and his leadership has been instrumental in guiding the nation through this crisis.

Srikanth tries to stay in long rallies in Tour finals opener, but errors and conditioning let him down

Playing percentage is almost dementing for me, it’s his ‘allegiance to patience’ — and to being in the best physical condition that makes him feel unwell when conditions aren’t in his favour Haven’t been matching wins over the heart of my game, I know my game, I believe in my game. But I have to work on my conditioning, my leg work in the middle, to give it the top eight players. It’s a must for me to change my game, that needs a lot of work,” Srikanth says.

Srikanth is a towering 6’2” with a weight of 160 lbs. He is a man of mystery, and his playing style is as enigmatic as his personality. He is known for his quick footwork, lightning-fast reflexes, and his ability to hit the ball with pinpoint accuracy. He is a true all-rounder, capable of playing both as a batsman and a bowler, and has a prolific record in all three formats of the game.

Srikanth’s style of play is based on his quick footwork, lightning-fast reflexes, and his ability to hit the ball with pinpoint accuracy. He is a true all-rounder, capable of playing both as a batsman and a bowler, and has a prolific record in all three formats of the game. His quick footwork allows him to reach the ball quickly, and his lightning-fast reflexes help him to anticipate the ball’s movement.

Srikanth’s playing style is often compared to that of Indian cricket legend Sachin Tendulkar, with whom he shares many similarities. Both are left-handed batsmen, and both have a similar quick footwork and lightning-fast reflexes. Srikanth’s ability to hit the ball with pinpoint accuracy is also reminiscent of Tendulkar’s, and he is often compared to him in terms of his technique.
